

Below is a chart with pieces representing the 7 different types of self care. In each part, write the things you do that fit into each type. If one fits into two, which one does it best fit into? Where are your strong self-care types and what are some ones that are lacking? How can you improve them?

